Chronology

Date	Event
1980	ATHENA International's founder, Martha Mertz was asked to serve on the Board of Directors of the Lansing Michigan Regional Chamber of Commerce. After finding herself to be the only business woman serving on the Board and discovering that her Chamber had only once honored a woman, Martha quickly recognized that the Chamber's boardroom did not reflect the reality of the community. Martha worked with her Chamber to recognize the leadership of outstanding professional and business women in the community and advocated to provide opportunities for them to move into leadership positions. ¹
1982	The first ATHENA Award was presented.
1990	The Nashville ATHENA Awards are established, with the first award in 1991.
1993	The traditional scholarship for outstanding high school female seniors was established by Nashville ATHENA.
1994	In 1994, ATHENA International (formerly known as ATHENA Foundation) Board of Directors established the International ATHENA Award. This award is presented each spring at the ATHENA International Leadership Conference

	GALA Dinner.
2001	Nashville ATHENA established the non-traditional scholarship to support non-traditional female students who wish to continue their education.
2005	Nashville ATHENA celebrates its 15 th anniversary.
2007	A $3,000 science-focused non-traditional scholarship was added to the Nashville ATHENA program.

Biographical/Historical Sketch

The mission of the ATHENA Award is:

- Supporting, developing and honoring women leaders.
- Inspiring women to achieve their full potential.
- Creating balance in leadership worldwide.

The ATHENA Award is presented annually by chambers of commerce, women's organizations and universities. The award is established through local host organizations in partnership with ATHENA International's national underwriters, local businesses and individual sponsors. Nominations are solicited and an ATHENA sculpture is awarded to an individual in the community who meets specific criteria: demonstrates excellence, creativity, and initiative in their business or profession; provides valuable service by contributing time and energy to improve the quality of life for others in the community; and actively assists women in realizing their full leadership potential

Since the program's inception in 1982 more than 5000 awards have been presented in over 500 communities in the United States, Canada, China, Russia, the United Arab Emirates and most recently the United Kingdom. By honoring exceptional leaders, the ATHENA Award® Program seeks to inspire others to achieve excellence in their professional and personal lives.²

The ATHENA Sculpture, created by sculptor Linda Ackley, was inspired by the dynamic goddess of Greek mythology known for her strength, courage, wisdom and enlightenment – qualities needed for leadership. The marble base represents the recipient's solid foundation. The unique textures of the bronze differ on each sculpture, just as the life experiences of the recipients differ. The cut crystal symbolizes the many facets of human character and the light emanating from the recipient. Viewed from various angles, the outstretched arms of this form can be seen to express the celebration of achievement and reaching out to others. Each unique sculpture is numbered as one of a select edition.³

Designed to recognize, encourage and celebrate the achievements of women in business and their professions, the Nashville ATHENA Award honors those women who have attained and personify the highest level of excellence. Each year, more than 25 women from across Middle Tennessee are nominated for their embodiment of the ATHENA spirit. Each exemplifies leadership, superior performance, commitment to community, and unselfish assistance to women and women's issues.

Over thirty women's organizations from throughout the community work together organizing the ATHENA Award, an annual Nashville event since 1991. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of a 300-word essay and superior academic performance. The traditional scholarship for outstanding high school female seniors was established in 1993. In 2001 the non-traditional scholarship was established to support non-traditional female students who wish to continue their education. In 2007, a $3,000 science focused non-traditional scholarship was added to the program.

Traditionally held at Nashville's Parthenon, the annual awards program was held for the first time in 2008 at the Schermerhorn Symphony Center. The organization will celebrate its 20th anniversary in 2010.

Scope and Contents of the Collection

The collection consists of administrative records, ephemera, photographs, publicity scrapbooks, and video recordings created by and documenting the Nashville ATHENA Awards Program since its inception in 1991. There is particularly strong representation for the years 2003-2005 in the collection. Every year since 1991 is represented at a minimum by a program from the annual awards program. In addition to traditional paper records, the records are in a variety of formats, including data files on compact disc, DVDs, VHS tapes, photographic prints, contact sheets, and posters.

The Nashville Public Library Special Collection Division exhibited material from the collection in the Courtyard Gallery from March to May 2009.
